

Date: Monday, Jan. 7, 2013

Contact: Jessica Di Santo – \(317\) 229-7082 or jdisanto@IndianapolisSymphony.org<<mailto:jdisanto@IndianapolisSymphony.org>>

The Hilbert Circle Theatre presents a special performance of acclaimed musician-duo Brad Mehldau and Chris Thile April 18

Tickets for this one-night-only appearance on sale Friday, Jan. 11

INDIANAPOLIS—The historic Hilbert Circle Theatre presents the unique and unexpected pairing of groundbreaking musicians Brad Mehldau and Chris Thile for a special concert on Thursday, April 18, 2013, at 7:30 p.m. Tickets will go on sale Friday, Jan. 11 at 10 a.m.

Acclaimed jazz pianist Brad Mehldau and singer/mandolin virtuoso Chris Thile, known for his work with acoustic trio Nickel Creek as well as more recent partnerships with Punch Brothers and Yo-Yo Ma, are inspired by a wide range of music – from Bach to Radiohead – and put their own improvisational style on an eclectic variety of favorite tunes and original compositions.

Tickets prices range from $25-$65 and can be purchased beginning Friday, Jan. 11 at 10 a.m. via the ISO Box Office at \(317\) 639-4300 and online at www.IndianapolisSymphony.org. The Hilbert Circle Theatre is located on Monument Circle in downtown Indianapolis. The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra does not perform during this special event.